THOMAS D. WATSON

Why Not Practice Preparedness By Organizing Reserve Police And Fire Departments

WILL GLENDALE profit through the experience gained in the late hill fire? This is a question that we might all give some serious thought to. The next fire may prove even more disastrous than the last one.

In conversation with one of our Glendale boosters yesterday this problem came up and a thought came to us that might be put into practical use, so we will pass it on for what it may be worth.

PREPAREDNESS was a word much in use during the world war. It was brought to our attention chiefly on account of this nation's lack of preparedness. The government, as a result of this experience, has since the war established a reserve force both in the army and navy. This reserve in the army is organized into divisions, regiments and even companies.

All enlisted men and officers are assigned to the organization which is closest to their homes. Complete data on each individual is kept in the organization headquarters, so as to make speedy mobilization in case of an emergency easy to accomplish. In this manner a large force of men becomes available when needed.

WHY COULD NOT this plan be worked out in Glendale, both in our police and fire departments?

During the hill fire a number of our citizens assisted both the police and the fire departments and undoubtedly did good work. But if properly organized with duties already assigned and learned how much more effective their work would have been.

GLENDALE will have other fires and maybe other catastrophes calling for fire or police protection. Why not start now and create volunteer organizations in both the fire and police departments, to be instructed as to the necessary duties. There are a number of ex-service men in Glendale who are experienced in the handling of men, whose services would be of much value and who would be more than glad to give them to their city without remuneration.

WE HAVE in our organization ten ex-service men and all of us stand ready to serve in any capacity where we can be of most service.

LEWIS MONROE PREPARING TO START BUILDING

The bungalow owned by Lewis A. Monroe on the south side of East Broadway a short distance west of the corner of Jackson, is being gotten ready to be moved off to make way for the new postoffice building Mr. Monroe is to erect there. It is expected that he will let the contract soon after receiving the preliminary sketches of floor plans from Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, who, with the help of his associates in the postoffice, is now at work upon them. He says they will probably be definitely decided upon this week. The rest, as to the architect and builder, will be up to Mr. Monroe. From what he has indicated to the postmaster he has in mind the erection of a building which will be a credit to the city, of the fire proof type, but whether it will be of brick or concrete has not been determined, neither has he said whether he will make it one or two stories in height. The fact that the ceilings in the postoffice part must be 16 feet high, may affect his decision.

CHRISTIAN CIRCLE CLUB TO RESUME MEETINGS

Meetings of the Christian Circle club will be resumed Thursday evening at a 6 o'clock supper at the Christian Church to which will be invited not only members but the city, their wives, and the presidents of the various ladies' aid societies who have acted as hostesses in the past. The after-luncheon program will include music and toasts and the chief speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Frances Neff, of the Girls' Corner club of Los Angeles, who was instrumental in founding this club and to whom she has always been dear.

HOLD CONFERENCE ON SEWER BOND ELECTION

May Ask to Have Time Extended One Week or More

Glendale's sewer bond election was discussed this morning in a special conference at the chamber of commerce.

Under the present contract between the city of Los Angeles and the city of Glendale this election must be held within ninety days from the date it was signed, October 10. It was decided to ask for about a week's extension of time. Unless this is obtained, the election probably will be held Tuesday, January 8.

C. A. Smith, member of the engineering firm of Burns & McDonnell, reported that he expected to have completed the survey by the first of December. C. S. Timanus, employee of this firm, reported progress in the making of the survey.

The city administration was represented at the conference by Mayor Spencer Robinson, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow, Assistant City Engineer V. B. Stone and three councilmen, Sam Davis, W. A. Horn and Asa Hall.

W. E. Hewitt, chairman of the chamber of commerce sewer committee, presided. Others present were Jesse E. Smith and E. F. Sanders, president and secretary of the chamber of commerce; A. L. Baird, chairman of the sewer finance committee; Lyman P. Clark, chairman of the sewer publicity committee.

WILL STIMULATE READING OF BEST BOOK IN THE WORLD

WILL STIMULATE—
REV. C. H. CHRISMAN
Pastor Christian and Missionary Alliance Church

Rev. C. H. Chrisman of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, heartily endorses the Daily Press' idea of publishing the New Testament scriptures in full, according to Prof. Goodspeed's translation. He says there is far too little Bible reading, for God's word read and obeyed is a remedy for sin and unrighteousness. Rev. Chrisman expressed the earnest hope that many families will read this translation, comparing it, if they wish, with the King James or American Revised versions, encouraging the children to ask questions about the different passages.

DR. H. C. FUNK

Pastor Glendale First Lutheran Church

The Glendale Press proposes a very novel, but commendable, plan for bringing the Word of God to the attention of the public. The Bible is the best book in the world and the Press will be rendering a valuable service in the publication of daily Gospel lessons. The plan of giving these scriptural messages to our people, we are sure, will prove to be most interesting and helpful.

EVERY TICKET FOR BENEFIT TONIGHT HAS BEEN SOLD

Many More Could Have Been Disposed of Is Now Known

Every one of the 763 tickets for tonight's benefit for the dependents of Glendale's fire heroes was sold before noon today and there were insistent calls for more, one man fairly imploring the Daily Press to get five for him.

This certainly speaks well for the generous heartedness of the citizens of Glendale, Eagle Rock and the little cities clustering about us to the north and northwest, for all had a part in this outpouring of public spirit.

The generous rivalry of famous film stars in giving their services to this great cause cannot be too highly commended. It shows that in times of great calamity or when deeds of heroism are to be fitly recognized we are all, famous and commonplace, "brothers under the skin," as Peter B. Kyne so aptly puts it.

Tonight's entertainment will long be remembered, not simply because it gave an opportunity to those attending to see 25 favorites of the screen all at one time, but because they could be buying one or more of the 75 tickets, show their appreciation of the heroic sacrifice made by the two men whom tonight we all honor. And the sale of every one of these seats means that nearly $4000 will be added to the fund that is being raised to aid the gray-haired mother of Clarence Edwards, the wife and babes of J. W. McGahan.

All honor to the noble-hearted film folk and to the many persons and organizations who have given so freely of time and money in aid of this noble cause. We are all the better for it.

FORMER GLENDALE COP KNOCKED OUT BY AUTO

The question as to what happens when an automobile hits a traffic "cop" was answered about 6:15 p. m. yesterday at Third and Hill streets, Los Angeles. The "victim" was "Dan" L. Flemming of 558 South Fremont street, formerly a member of the local police department. While he was on duty directing traffic, a Marmon automobile ran into him and he woke up in the receiving hospital. No bones were broken but his right side received numerous bruises.

ARREST FOR RECKLESS DRIVING IS ORDERED

A warrant was issued Monday morning for the arrest of Roy Lockridge of 326 South Granada street for reckless driving. The complaining witness was Mrs. Delphine Crow who was injured October 22 when her car was run into by a car driven by Lockridge. She has only just recovered sufficiently to make the complaint. The accident occurred at the corner of Central and Colorado.

IN THOSE DAYS JOHN THE BAPTIST APPEARED AND PREACHED IN THE DESERT

This Is a Literal Statement From the Fascinating New Testament Story Appearing From Day to Day in the Press

Then he awoke, and took the child and his mother and went to the land of Israel. But hearing that Archelaus was reigning over Judea in the place of his father, Herod, he was afraid to return there; and being warned in a dream, he took refuge in the region of Galilee, and he went and settled in a town called Nazareth, in fulfillment of the saying of the prophets,

"He shall be called a Nazarene."

In those days John the Baptist appeared, and preached in the desert of Judea.

"Repent!" he said, "for the Kingdom of Heaven is coming!"

It was he who was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah, when he said,

"Hark! Someone is shouting in the desert, 'Get the Lord's way ready! Make his paths straight!'"

John wore clothing made of hair cloth, and he had a leather belt around his waist, and he lived on dried locusts and wild honey. Then Jerusalem and all Judea and the whole Jordan valley went out to him, and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River, in acknowledgment of their sins. But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for baptism, he said to them,

"You brood of snakes! Who warned you to escape from the wrath that is coming? Then produce fruit that will be consistent with your professed repentance! Do not suppose that you can say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham for our forefather,' for I tell you God can produce descendants for Abraham right out of these stones! But the axe is already lying at the roots of the trees. Any tree that fails to produce good fruit is going to be cut down and thrown into the fire. I am baptizing you in water in token of your repentance, but he who is coming after me is stronger than I am, and I am not fit to carry his shoes. He will baptize you in the holy Spirit and in fire. His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will clean up his threshing-floor, and store his wheat in his barn, but he will burn up the chaff with inextinguishable fire."

Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan, to John, to be baptized by him. But John dissuaded him, and said,

"I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?"

But Jesus answered,

"Let it be so this time, for it is right for us to do every thing that God requires."

Then John consented. And when Jesus was baptized, he went right up out of the water, and the heavens opened, and he saw the Spirit of God come down like a dove and light upon him, and a voice from heaven said,

"This is my Son, my Beloved! This is my Chosen."

Then Jesus was guided by the Spirit into the desert, to be tempted by the devil. And he fasted forty days and nights, and after it he was famished. And the tempter came up and said to him,

GLENDALE WILL HAVE GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL SOON

Glendale is to have a Girl Scout council. At a meeting of interested women last evening at the Tuesday Afternoon club, the council was formed with the following officers elected: Mrs. Fred A. Beach, commissioner; Mrs. M. S. Brennan, deputy commissioner; Mrs. Wm. R. Wichert, secretary; Mrs. W. E. Rount, treasurer.

The council is made up of the above officers and the following: Mrs. Katherine Ratigan, Mrs. Ethel Russell, Mrs. H. M. Doll, Mrs. Peter L. Perry, Mrs. Chas. Temple, Mrs. John G. Huntley, Mrs. Frank C. Ayres, Mrs. Pierson Hanning, Mrs. Leon W. Sonntag, Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mrs. H. B. Lockwood, Mrs. J. E. Bule, Mrs. A. Wintersgill, Mrs. Nellie Case, Mrs. Reed Hastings, Mrs. Jennie Chappuis, Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mrs. W. E. Cleveland, Mrs. M. H. Stanley, Mrs. W. O. Borthick, Mrs. R. C. Horner.

Mrs. R. C. Horner acted as temporary chairman and conducted the meeting and election. It was decided to hold a Girl Scout rally in the near future. The question of working out these plans is left to the executive committee of the council and the following appointed members: Mesdames Hanning, Ayres, Lockwood and Ferry.

Upon resolution of the members present an executive committee was formed to be made up of the four officers and three members appointed by the commissioner.

BOYS INVOLVED IN BURGLARY TAKEN TO L. A.

Charged with having been involved in the burglary Saturday night of the grocery at 812 South San Fernando road, Arley Ward of 4001 Euclalytus street, Albert Hill of 4132 Parkdale avenue and T. M. Satterfield of 2147 Vernon avenue, Los Angeles, yesterday were taken to juvenile hall, Los Angeles. An attempt on the part of young Satterfield to make the authorities believe that he was over 18 years of age failed when his father, E. P. Satterfield, produced evidence to show that he was 16, September 21.

DAILY PRESS IS COMMENDED FOR POPULAR FEATURE

REV. CLIFFORD A. COLE
Pastor Central Christian Church

I am delighted that the Press is to print the new Goodspeed translation of the New Testament. There is no surer sign of the returning tide of faith than the fresh interest of many people in the New Testament. This translation in popular speech of the United States will not supplant the supreme common translations, such as the King James version or the American Revised version, in the minds and hearts of lovers of God's Word, but will help all to understand more readily how God speaks to each nation in its own tongue. This New Testament is not a priest's book, nor a schoolman's book, but it is the book of the people. It may not fill all the desires of some scholars and theologians, it may seem strange to many who are familiar with other and common versions, but it will be a great aid to the readers of your paper and will bring home the great living messages of God a little more forcibly to the life of our time.

The Press is to be commended for what should be a very popular feature of its daily issues. Personally I shall take delight in reading with others what is claimed to be a real American translation of the world's greatest Book.

PARENTS AND WIFE OF FIRE HERO THANKFUL

Express Deep, Heartfelt Appreciation of Public's Spirit

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McGahan, the heartbroken parents of Joseph W. McGahan, who sacrificed his life in the mountain fire, and his widow have asked the Glendale Press to try to express for them their very deep appreciation of what the citizens of Glendale have done for the family in a practical way and especially for the benefit entertainment to be given in the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium. To each and every performer who is contributing to the program, and to every ticket purchaser, they feel deeply indebted not so much from the financial viewpoint but because of the personal expression of appreciation of the deed of a brave man and good citizen, which participation in the benefit reveals.

Joseph Wilson McGahan was an only son and in his death his parents are wholly bereft. The effort which Glendale is making to provide in some degree for his widow and orphaned children touches them deeply as he had been unable to secure insurance because of a weak heart and their plight would have been desperate but for this demonstration of the splendid spirit of helpfulness by the public.

Mrs. Joseph McGahan, wan and sad, smiled bravely as she indorsed all that her father-in-law had said. He and his wife have come to Glendale to do all they can for her and her children.

SAN JOSE WELL PLEASED WITH CHEST PLAN

San Jose is well pleased with the efficiency of its welfare chest, according to Glenn Johnson, executive secretary of the San Jose Community council.

"Last November our campaign goal was reached and the twenty-two agencies that comprise the community chest went on their budgets January 1, and have functioned to everybody's satisfaction this year."

"Our campaign plan of last year was to have each organization subscribe 100 percent in large figures to this cause. In this way we raised over $50,000 and it gave the necessary enthusiasm to put the whole thing over."

PIIONEER NOTCHERS ON EDUCATIONAL TRIP

Tonight the young boys enrolled as "Pioneer Notchers" of the Y. M. C. A. will be taken for an educational trip by Secretary Rex Kelley. They will leave the Y. M. C. A. office at 7 o'clock by auto and motor to the Times building where they will be shown the big plant from press to editorial rooms.

REVELATIONS OF GRAFT, BOOZING, ARE SHAMEFUL

Veterans' Bureau Heads and Employees Shown Up in Bad Light

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—"Parties," said to have been indulged in by some officers and employees of the veterans bureau at Chillicothe, Ohio, were described in a letter from E. A. Tripp, in charge of the supply division of the bureau, dated November 17, 1922, and read into the committee record. The letter was addressed to Chief Clerk Black of the bureau, and Black said it was among the papers stolen when his office was robbed on November 25-26, 1922.

"Say, this is some town," said the letter. "You're missing a real old time. The hunting season is on. Rabbits for lunch and pheasants for dinner; wine, beer and booze and we haven't missed a one yet. Last Wednesday I was soused to the gills."

"Last Saturday there was wine-eat and wine with the mayor, the sheriff and the prosecuting attorney."

"The committee had better take a trip out there," observed Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, amid laughter.

"To hell with the central office and work," the letter continued. "The fun is in the stuff. It is all the work I want, just travel around. Dexter, I think, is on the rocks and unless Forbes changes the administration I think the school will be."

"The reference is to the rehabilitation school at Chillicothe which was the largest of the veterans' bureau projects."

Referring to supplies at the school, Tripp wrote that there was on hand much stuff that never would be used and added:

"It's some joke."

He then told of a man who was relieved as property chief and made references to several other employees.

"It's some ring," the letter added. "They're all playing 'I am.' It's funny the way they handle visitors."

Tripp then made a reference to fire hazards at the school and added:

"Say, if Forbes could only see the lovely three foot grass—if fire comes, boom, up she goes."

Tripp then wrote about sales of property and later on there was this sentence:

"Let me know when Forbes is going to sell my sealed proposals. Then's when I get a Rolls-Royce."

FOOTHILL FOLK HAVE VERY BUSY EVENING SESSION

Members of the Glendale Foothill Improvement association, at the regular meeting held on Monday night, decided to conduct a membership campaign and to bring in new members at the next meeting. The matter of widening San Fernando road was discussed and a motion passed favoring making it a 100 foot boulevard. A committee consisting of J. R. Gray, C. B. Hill and Mr. Rose was appointed to investigate the matter.

The request from Glendale Community Service that the association appoint a member to cooperate on the Welfare Chest movement was denied. The association decided to contribute $20 towards the fire victims' testimonial fund. Mrs. Buckman announced that books will be open in a few days for registration of voters of that district. Newspaper articles on the sewer bonds were read and the matter discussed. The association plans to have speakers at some future meeting to go into the matter more thoroughly. A motion carried that the secretary be paid $12 a year. It was decided that a letter of sympathy be written to Mrs. George L. Pearson, whose late husband was a member of the association. The association asked that a letter be written to the library board recommending that the library building be raised in order to put in a basement that could be used for a community room when completed at some future date.

GLENDALE HOTEL CO. MEMBERS TO MEET

Members of the Glendale Hotel company will hold a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce November 14 to discuss matters in connection with the construction of the five-story hotel to be erected at the corner of Brand and California.

C. OF C. APPOINTS COMMITTEE ON 'MORE FIREMEN'

Flood Control Discussed And Changes Are Recommended

Chamber of Commerce directors held their weekly meeting this noon in Jensen's Egyptian Village. The desirability of the city of Glendale purchasing and installing additional fire-fighting equipment was recommended by Secretary E. F. Sanders. He expressed his opinion that Glendale has only half as much fire-fighting equipment as other communities of a similar size.

P. J. Hayselden of 901 South Glendale avenue commented upon the fact that the personnel of the fire department, including Chief A. H. Lankford, consists of only 23 men, one of whom is a machinist and another a telephone operator. He asserted that in case of a serious fire all of the firemen would be needed to man the equipment and no firemen would be free to enter burning buildings to accomplish rescues.

Upon motion of W. E. Hewitt seconded by E. C. Pendroy, Jesse E. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, this afternoon is appointing a committee of three to investigate the subject.

Control of flood waters from the fire area was the subject of a written report submitted by Lyman P. Clark, chairman of a special investigating committee. Other members are L. T. Rowley of 334 Vine street, Dr. T. C. Young of 620 East Broadway and Dan Kelly of 107 South Brand boulevard.

"The committee realizes fully the damage that would be done if the waters from the heavy rains would be allowed to flow uncontrolled," the report stated, "and deposit quantities of refuse and sediment which might be piled up in the streets in low places to a height of two or three feet."

A series of check dams at the entrances to the various canyons which would hold back the sediment but permit the storm water to pass on is recommended by Mr. Rowley who at one time was a forest ranger.

"It was also decided by this committee," asserted its report, "to ask property owners who would be protected from damage to co-operate with us to help put over our program."

A suggestion from W. R. Williams, superintendent of the West-ern Union in Los Angeles, that the Chamber of Commerce might interest itself in having the federal tax on telegraph messages abolished was tabled.

A loan of $500 was granted to the Glendale Welfare council with which to pay expenses for the establishment of the Glendale Welfare chest. This action was taken upon motion of W. E. Hewitt, seconded by C. D. Lusby of 233 South Brand boulevard.

An announcement was made of the appointment of Jesse E. Smith, C. D. Lusby and L. T. Rowley to represent the Chamber of Commerce in the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley.

SOME CONVICTIONS IN SPEED COURT TODAY

Judge Kenneth Newell of Pasadena this morning sat on the bench at the local police court.

L. Partilla of 310 East Cypress street was sent to the county jail on a charge of having been drunk and disorderly Saturday night.

Don Millan and J. R. Cook, both of Los Angeles, were arraigned before the court charged with having permitted the automobile in which they were riding about 4 a. m. Sunday to go over the curb at the corner of Harvard street and Maryland avenue. Mr. Millan is charged with reckless driving and his hearing was set for Friday morning. His bail was set for $300. Mr. Cook was released upon the payment of a fine of $50 for having been intoxicated.

John C. Clogston of Pasadena was released upon the payment of $300. He was charged with having been driving an automobile Saturday night while under the influence of liquor.

CHORAL CLUB REHEARSAL AT HIGH SCHOOL

An enthusiastic rehearsal of the Glendale Choral club was held at the High School Monday night with Mrs. Alex Mitchell, president, and J. Arthur Myer, director, in charge. During intermission a very delightful solo dance was given by Marie Brown, pupil of Pearl Keller.

MONTROSE NOTES

A delightful program has been arranged by the entertainment committee of the Montrose chamber of commerce for Tuesday evening, Nov. 6, and it is expected that a large number will be in attendance. The affair will be in the new schoolhouse—the first of a series of entertainments to be held there.

There will be community singing led by Marion Tracy, Whiting, with Mrs. Eccleston at the piano. Then will follow a soprano solo by Mrs. Wm. Reed, a newcomer to Montrose and a most charming woman. Mrs. Eccleston will please her audience with a piano solo followed by a violin rendition by Mr. Reed. Mr. Eccleston will sing and Mrs. Evelyn Pierce will give a reading. Refreshments will be served.

Dr. C. W. Rook has purchased the Sanderson house on Del Mar road and will move with his family into the new home by the 15th of the month.

Many residents of Sparr Heights enjoyed a community dance Saturday night. Costumes and masques afforded great fun to all, while the music was delightful.

Friends and acquaintances of the H. E. Palmer family of La Crescenta will be grieved to learn of the death of their little son who passed away Friday morning. The child died as a result of ptomaine poisoning, contracted from drinking the juice from canned salmon. He was one year old. Another boy, somewhat older, is seriously ill at the Glendale hospital, from the same illness.

The first day of school in the new Montrose building opened Monday with a very fair representation. The building, which has four large rooms, is beautifully finished both outside and in and is very admirably situated. The walls and woodwork of the interior are done in a dull green of pleasing tone. The large kitchen is finished in white. Children from the first to the fourth grades are included in the enrollment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Reed are building a charming little cottage in Briggs Terrace, where they will make their permanent home within the next few weeks. They are delighted with Montrose.

Mr. S. M. Meyers is a booster for Montrose, but he believes also that faith without works does nobody any good. Mr. Meyers is showing his faith in Montrose by acquiring several new lots in addition to the property which he already has here. He recently purchased forty foot frontage on Montrose avenue, adjoining Mr. Howard's office. The corner of Market and Honolulu avenue has also been acquired by Mr. Meyers as well as forty feet on Honolulu, opposite Market.

Events of Interest to Glendale and Its People

E. F. Sanders, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will be the speaker Thursday night before the Palms chamber of commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg and children of 462 Riverdale drive motored to San Bernardino and Riverside on Sunday.

A picnic party at Santa Monica was enjoyed on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Olin, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Olin and Mr. and Mrs. George Harris of Glendale.

Mrs. E. R. Loud of Albion, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cushman of Hollywood, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Godfrey of 225 North Orange street.

Dale T. Wood, who is a sophomore in the University of Redlands, spent Friday and Saturday with his mother, Mrs. W. F. Wood at 1470 East Wilson avenue.

Walter Ely, who has just recovered from an attack of acute bronchitis, is back at work again as draughtsman in the city engineering department.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wallace of Biebee, Arizona, have returned to their home after a ten days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall of 134 North Belmont street. They made the trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Putnam and family of 424 North Glendale avenue spent the week-end at Balboa Beach. On Saturday night they attended the Halloween dance given at the Newport Yacht club.

Comrade T. M. Barrett and daughter, Miss Mabel, motored to Pomona Saturday to spend the week-end with Mr. Barrett's daughter, Mrs. Brown. They found the roads very crowded with autos.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Payne of 523 West Lexington drive will entertain as her guests at dinner tonight Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Core and son Edwin, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hunter and family.

Mrs. E. E. East of 121 West Lexington drive entertained as her guests at dinner recently Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kelso of Los Angeles. Mr. Kelso is assistant attorney for the Southern California Automobile club.

Dr. L. N. Rudy, a former resident of Glendale and the builder of the Rudy block at the corner of Broadway and Brand, has just arrived from the east, having made the journey across the continent by auto. He is a brother of Mrs. J. B. McNamany and plans to spend the winter here.

Mrs. A. H. Koverman of 915 East Lomita avenue and sister, Mrs. C. M. Kidd of Pittsburg, Pa., who is her house guest, were luncheon guests recently of Mrs. N. Moore of Pasadena. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Koverman, Mrs. Kidd and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Service of Los Angeles enjoyed a motor trip to Covina.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Conner of 611 East Chesnut street, have returned from a three months' visit at their old home in Lima, Ohio. Mrs. Conner's mother accompanied them and will make her home in Glendale. Mr. Conner took out a permit today for the new home he will build at Piedmont Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Houdyshel of 308 North Orange street entertained with a family picnic party on Sunday in the hills near Verdugo park. Those in the party included Mr. and Mrs. S. Houdyshel and daughters, Miss Sadie and Sibyl Houdyshel, of Glendale, Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Houdyshel and family of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Houdyshel and family of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Houdyshel of Los Angeles, recently of Massachusetts.

Frank W. Chase, formerly of this city, has recently moved with family from Potrero, San Diego county, to Michigan avenue, La Canada. He has bought the business of Mr. Metcalf, who formerly ran the store and postoffice at La Canada, and has leased the building together with the bungalow in which Mr. Metcalf lived, for five years. Mr. Chase has sold his store at Potrero and a part of his San Diego land.

Mrs. Elizabeth Muench, niece of Mrs. Louise Purnell, has just come from the east to join her husband and son who have been with Mrs. Purnell for the past two months at 553 Ivy street. They plan to make their permanent home here. Mrs. Purnell had quite an eventful auto ride a few days ago when she passed the Hollywood club just after a terrible auto accident which was fatal to one member of a group riding in a machine which collided with a Girard bus. She witnessed three other auto accidents and before arriving at home was run into, herself, a new luncheon trunk just purchased and placed on the rear of her car being smashed in the encounter. It has not discouraged her from auto riding, however.

Don't forget that the lemon deserves a place upon your dressing table and in your kitchen. Lemon juice is an excellent bleach for the skin, and leaves it soft and white. It also removes stains, and when mixed with the white of an egg, will do wonders for the dry throat and hoarse voice.

Mrs. Charles L. Guitane of 1641 Grand View avenue was taken ill at her home on Monday with influenza.

Mrs. A. R. Buttery of 335 West Harvard street, who has been quite ill for the past month, is now on the road to recovery.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

Today marks the opening of the fourth gasoline station for La Crescenta. Wm. McCormick is the owner of this new station, located on Michigan avenue. The place is most attractive, painted red and yellow.

Miss Janet Culberson of Michigan and Rosemont avenues will be hostess to the La Crescenta Aeolian Music club at her home next Friday evening.

After many delays the pupils of Montrose, who have been attending school here, were transferred to their own new home yesterday morning. Mrs. Ester I. Eyre will be principal and will teach the third and fourth grades. Mrs. Edith Boyer will have charge of the first and second grades. There were 79 pupils registered from Montrose. The total enrollment of the La Crescenta school is now 360 with a steady increase in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Culberson, Miss Janet Culberson, Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Nettleton, Daniel Cook, and

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Anderson of Montrose, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell of Plinridge last evening, at a bridge and Mah Jongg party.

Mrs. Harriett Bastable and daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Adams, have leased their home in Hollywood and are now domiciled with Miss Delia Bastable on South Los Angeles avenue. Mrs. Bastable is leaving shortly for an extended visit in the east.

The first of the series of children's parties to be given by the local Parent-Teachers' association, will be held Thursday afternoon for the children in the first, second, third and fourth grades. On Friday, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will be entertained.

SNOW REMOVAL IS BIGGER TASK EACH WINTER

Snow removal on important trunk-line highways is becoming a matter of increasing importance each winter, says the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Investigations of the bureau show that there is a considerable mileage of road which the public can ill afford to lose the use of each winter.

As a result of traffic investment in Connecticut, it is estimated that 1,019,688 net tons of commodities were transported over the state system in the three months' period beginning with September 1922. More than a third of this tonnage moved only from 1 to 9 miles and nearly another third moved from 10 to 25 miles. These figures are given to show that in industrial sections there is a large volume of short-haul traffic which does not compete with the railroads and which can not be carried by the railroads when the highways become snowbound.

It is difficult to estimate the amount of inconvenience to passenger travel caused by snow but with at least one motor vehicle to every ten people in a majority of the states it must be considerable. In many sections motor bus travel is increasingly relied upon by rural communities. It is reported that there are 450 such lines in Ohio, 283 in Pennsylvania and large numbers in other states where snow is a problem. So great is the importance of keeping these lines in operation that cases are known where companies have cleared their lines of snow at their own expense.

Don't underestimate the value of sleep. Sound, refreshing sleep is one of nature's most powerful rebuilding agents, and has a most beneficial effect upon the complexion. It also gives a luster to the eye that can be obtained in no other way.

WEDDING OF LLOYD CULVER AND MISS GARNET PETERS

To Be Celebrated in the Central Christian Church Tonight

A wedding of unusual interest is to be celebrated tonight at the Central Christian Church, at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Garnet Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Peters of 299 North Orange street, will become the bride of Lloyd M. Culver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Culver of 1134 San Rafael avenue. The church has been beautifully decorated for the event. Over both sides are white arches twined with ivy and asparagus fern brightened by sprays of white and yellow chrysanthemums. Above the pulpit, choir loft and baptistry is a white latticed canopy, similarly twined, beneath which the bridal party will stand. Large baskets of white and gold chrysanthemums accented with the effect.

The bride, gowned in white satin trimmed with Spanish lace, will wear the conventional veil crowned with a pearl head band, garnished with orange blossoms. Attending her will be her sister, Fern Peters, as maid of honor, wearing a changeable rose-colored taffeta and carrying American beauty roses. A silver head band will complete her costume.

Four bridesmaids will also be in attendance, Ina McConnell, Evelyn Walker, Nell Leggett and Alice Mercer. These are to be gowned in changeable taffeta silk in the pastel colors, will wear silver headbands and will carry sweet peas. Little Naudine Porter, dressed in peach pink crepe de chine, will carry the ring upon a white satin pillow, and her sister, Little Juanita Porter, in turquoise blue crepe de chine, will be flower girl. They are cousins of the bridegroom.

Roland Percey will support the bridegroom as best man. The ushers are Bob Howlett, Leslie Bennett, Gordon Mize, Howard Bennett and Sylvester Garner.

Miss Florence Heacock will preside at the organ and will be accompanied by Beatrice Bolen, violin. The Lohengrin wedding march will herald the entrance of the bride, which will make its exit to the strains of the Mendelssohn march. As a prelude to the ceremony, Mrs. Floyd Mercer will sing "At Dawning" and "Because."

Two clergymen are to officiate. Rev. J. W. Utter, of Bellflower, who will read the service, and Rev. Clifford Cole, pastor of the church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception of the home of the bride's parents where Mr. and Mrs. Culver will receive the congratulations of relatives and close friends and where refreshments will be served, after which they

TUESDAY CLUB IS GOING TO STAGE MUSICAL SHOW

Preparations are under way for the staging of one of the most spectacular musical shows that has been launched in Glendale. This announcement comes from the Tuesday Afternoon club, which has made arrangements with Director John Reber for the staging here of Reber's successful musical extravaganza, "Oh-Ho."

An all-local cast will take the roles in this production, to the number of more than sixty. The staging will be at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium early in December.

Director Reber has been associated with the presentation of society musical shows for fifteen years and has to his credit more productions in California than any other producer. Reber has staged "Oh-Ho" in more than fifty cities with marked success. The show has made a great name for itself in San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno, Riverside, San Diego and Pasadena, among California cities, in many of which it is remembered as being the finest show ever presented with an amateur cast.

"Oh-Ho" is a two-act musical melange, centered around the ever-delightful college life theme. The libretto has a real plot, filled with clever lines and fine comedy situations. The musical score of twenty-four musical numbers are said to be the truly whistly variety, while the spectacular dance features of the show are reported to be worthy the best of professional productions. In these dance numbers will appear the leading debs and society girls of Glendale.

"Oh-Ho" has been presented in Pasadena five different years with local talent. The production has proved so popular there that it has had fourteen performances in the Crown City, and no show has been given in Pasadena that has achieved a similar success.

The show here is expected to set a new mark among local musical attractions. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is chairman of the committee handling the show for the Tuesday Afternoon club. Rehearsals for the production will be under way immediately.

ELKS DISCUSS PLANS FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

Regular business of Glendale lodge of Elks, No. 1289, was transacted at the meeting held Monday night. Plans were discussed for the memorial day service to be held by the Elks on December 2. Details are being completed for the entertainment and dance to be held by the lodge on Thursday night, November 8, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for the benefit of the Elks' Christmas charity fund.

will leave by auto for a honeymoon in parts unknown, returning to Glendale in about ten days when they will be able to welcome their friends to their pretty new home, just completed, at 1600 Glenwood Road.

MUSIC CLUB PLANS WINTER CONCERTS, OTHER EVENTS

Very important business was transacted at the meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Music club held Monday afternoon, when plans for some of the winter concerts and other events of interest to the club were discussed. It was decided that for the January concert, which will open the second half of the club year, the club will present Allen McQuhae, Irish tenor, who has created a sensation throughout music circles in the east and is referred to as the new McCormick. Mr. McQuhae is coming west from New York in January.

For the December concert, the people of Glendale will welcome Carl Gantvoort, who has been secured for a return engagement. Mr. Gantvoort was soloist at a previous concert given by the club and also program put on by the club for the benefit of its scholarship fund.

The board voted to place Christmas memberships in the club on sale early in December and are urging members to present their friends with a club membership as a Christmas gift. These memberships, about 200 of which will be available, will be sold at $4, which will entitle the holder to attend the concerts for the remainder of the club season. General admission for single concerts will continue at $1 for those not holding memberships.

Charter day will be celebrated by the club the second Friday in February. The board is planning to make this a big affair and will announce details at a later date.

Sometime during the first week in December the Glendale Music club will put on a federation tea, which will be quite an elaborate affair. The proceeds are to be used towards the federation work. Work of the various sections of the club is progressing nicely. None of this is financed from the general fund of the club, however, this money being used entirely for the artists' club expenses.

MADRIGAL CLUB TAKES IN TWO NEW MEMBERS

Glendale Madrigal club members held their regular weekly rehearsal on Monday afternoon at the Congregational church. At this meeting two new active members were accepted into the club. Mrs. John Ray was elected to fill a vacancy on the board of directors. Mrs. Helen MacMullin's team, No. 1, is leading in the membership drive. On account of Armistice day next Monday, the next rehearsal of the club will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30.

The list of patrons and patronesses of the Madrigal club to date include the following: Mayor and Mrs. Spencer Robinson, the Glendale Daily Press, Thomas D. Watson; Glendale Evening News, A. T. Cowan; Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Pendroy, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Sr., Wm. A. Howe, George B. Karr, L. G. Scovern, Pioneer Drive Needle club, Mrs. W. A. Hough, Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Mrs. Warren Roberts, Roberts & Echols, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Glendale Creamery company, Smith MacMullin, manager; Paul A. Hoffman, Bentley Lumber company, Managers of Edwards & Wilkey company, Roy L. Kent.

LEGION AUXILIARY OPEN MEETING WELL ATTENDED

The open meeting of the American Legion auxiliary of Glendale post, No. 127, held Monday night at the Legion hall at 610 East Broadway, was well attended by members of local post and auxiliary, the Glendale D. A. R.'s, and Eagle Rock post and auxiliary. In the absence of Mrs. Margaret Kaed, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward presided at the meeting, with Mrs. Frug acting as secretary pro-tem in the absence of Mrs. Schwitters. Seated on the platform were Post Commander Chalmers Day of Glendale, Post Commander Mr. Reed of Eagle Rock, Auxiliary President Mrs. Rose of Eagle Rock and Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, representative of the Glendale D. A. R.

Baroness Otilly de Ropp gave an address on "Differences in Ideals Between the Soviets of Russia and the American People." Mrs. Bertha Dobbins of Long Beach, gave a very interesting talk on "Americanization."

At the close of the meeting Mrs. James McBryde and her committee served chocolate and cake.

LEGIONNAIRES TO DANCE ON ARMISTICE DAY

A feature of the Armistice day celebration in Glendale on Monday, November 12, will be the dance to be given by Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion. The dance will be held in the ballroom of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, corner of Lexington drive and North Central avenue, beginning at 8:30 p. m. Leroy Fortier, chairman in charge of arrangements, is planning special entertainment features, music to be furnished by a seven-piece orchestra and decorations appropriate to Armistice day. With the reputation that the Legion has gained for showing a good time to all attending their dancing parties, and the fact that the event will be held in a larger hall, a record attendance is anticipated.

REGULAR MEETING OF CENTRAL AVENUE P. T. A.

Regular meeting of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. R. L. Young is president, will be held on Thursday afternoon at 8:15 o'clock. The speakers will be D. F. Reichard, who will give a talk on "Landscape Gardening;" and also a speaker from the American Legion on "American Education." Mrs. Helen Graham Cole will have charge of a program of special music. The regular meeting will be preceded by a session of the executive board at 2:15 o'clock.

WAR MOTHERS WILL HAVE ALL DAY MEETING

The regular weekly meeting of the local chapter of War Mothers, in the form of an all day meeting, will be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. C. R. Stevenson, 330 West Broadway. All members are urged to be present and bring needle and thread, as quilts for disabled veterans will be worked upon.

THIRD DANCE BY SECURITY BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

Glendale Council No. 3696 of the Security Benefit association will give its third dance Thursday, November 8, at the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. Music will be furnished by the Kelly Shrine club orchestra. The public is invited to attend.

SHAKESPEAREANS HOLD JUBILEE MEETING NOV. 5

Members of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday afternoon club held a jubilee meeting at the clubhouse on November 5, celebrating the tercentenary of the printing of the first folio of Shakespeare's works, which falls on November 8 and is being internationally celebrated.

Mrs. Mazy F. Garrett, instructor of the section, gave an interesting talk on the printing and preservation of the folio. She stated that one of the first folios is in a library in London.

The program for the afternoon included the presenting of the prison scene from "King John" by Mrs. H. W. Ralston as "Hubert," Mrs. J. T. Edwards as the executioner and little Felicity Edwards as Prince Arthur. Christine, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Edwards, and who is a pupil of Calmon Luboviski, gave three violin numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Leigler.

The hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. R. K. Snow and Mrs. Eugene Brown, served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The next session will be held on November 19, when the class will continue the study of "Twelfth Night." The hostesses will be Mrs. Holbrook and Mrs. F. S. Card.

KID PARTY AT SUNSET CANYON CLUB LAST NIGHT

A "kid party" was given for adults Monday night at the Sunset Canyon club attended by about fifty guests, Glendale being well represented. Besides the dancing, each couple present was called up on for a stunt. All came dressed as children and refreshments followed the program. Another party of a similar character will be given two weeks hence.

WILLARD LEARNED AND WIFE ON WAY TO CONGO

Should any of the Daily Press readers wish to write to Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Learned, the address of both is now Bolenge, D. C. M. C. Quilhatville, Congo Belge, W. C. Africa, via Antwerp. They left Glendale Sept. 3 to start on the long journey to the mission field, where they will be for the next six years and sailed from New York city early in October. They went to Antwerp, Belgium, where they had to transfer to another ship, bound directly for the mouth of the Congo river.

The hall was crowded and the woman speaker was waxing eloquent. "Yes," she cried, emphatically, "women have been misjudged for ages. They have suffered in a thousand ways." Here she paused to give her audience time to consider this momentous statement. "There is one way in which they never suffered and never will," said a meek little man from the back of the crowd.

The lecturer gave him a frigid look. "And in what way is that?" she inquired.

"In silence," replied the man, as he sank into his seat.

EVERINGTONS TO REMAIN HERE AND WILL BUILD HOME

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Everington of this city who placed their home on sale some time ago expecting to move to Culver City, where Mr. Everington is executive secretary of the Greater Washington boulevard association, have just sold it and now discover that they cannot bring themselves to leave Glendale; they are too much attached to it and its people. Accordingly they are now negotiating for the building of a new home on property they own on Ben Lomond drive, where they will live until ready to build a permanent home on Cumberland drive.

The object of the association with which Mr. Everington is connected as executive secretary, is to work for a cross-town connection south of the congested district between the present east end of Washington and Whittier road, giving a direct route from the Pomona Valley-Whittier territory to the ocean; to grade, curb and secure maximum width for the thoroughfares involved, to promote the opening and improvement of other main arteries trending toward Washington boulevard as an outlet to the sea; to establish set-back lines and zoning regulations, tree planting, parking, lighting and other scenic embellishments; to cooperate with city and county officials in the creation of improvement districts, etc.

The young man walked into the shop of his friend Jack Sharp, who was a tobacconist in fairly large way of business.

Having purchased a packet of cigarettes, he lingered to have a little chat with his friend.

"Jack," he remarked after a while, "do you know you gave me a bad quarter in my change the other night?"

"Impossible," replied the other. "I have never either given or taken a bad quarter during all the years I have been in the trade."

"Oh, yes, you have," persisted the friend.

"With twenty years' experience of handling money, I can tell by the touch whether the coin is good or bad, physical instinct, my boy. By the way, I suppose you managed to get rid of it?"

"Yes," was the reply, "I have just given it to you for the cigarettes."

OLD FOLKS' DAY AT THE CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The "Old Folks' Day" service at Central Christian church Sunday morning was beautiful and impressive. Pure white chrysanthemums in four large baskets were the decorations used. A count showed 35 present who were over 70 years of age and four were over 85. Mrs. Parker who was 88 on October 27 won the prize, two unusually large "mums," one white and the other a delicate pink, promised by the pastor, Rev. C. C. Coles to the oldest person present.

The sermon, subject was the "Bright Side of Growing Old," and the text was 1 Thessalonians 2:19 "For what is our hope or joy or crown of rejoicing?" The speaker drew a wonderful picture of sweet old age, an aged Christian couple going hand in hand down the sunset slope of life, and quoted the wise man who wrote as one of his proverbs: "The hoary head is a crown of glory when found in the way of righteousness," and Job, who says: "Thou shalt come to thy grave in full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in his season."

The evening service was very largely attended and Rev. Cole preached the third of his series of sermons on "Early Christian Martyrs." He spoke of John Wycliffe, John Huss, Jerome of Prague, Savanarola, the Waldenses and Albigenses, leading up to the reformation under Martin Luther. After the sermon, the beautiful ceremony of baptism, when two young women were "buried with Christ in baptism to arise to walk in newness of life," was witnessed.

LIP READING, LETTER WRITING CLASSES POPULAR

Two classes which are especially well received this term were commented upon this morning by A. L. Ferguson, principal of the night school at Glendale Union high school.

A new class in business letter writing meets at 8 o'clock Monday and Wednesday nights in room 20, of the main building. It is taught by Paul E. Webb, member of the high school faculty. It is intended not only for stenographers but also for all persons in the commercial world who are interested in the efficiency of business letters.

A lip-reading class, which was commenced last term, is being well attended. It is taught by Miss Mary E. Rice of Los Angeles, a specialist in lip-reading and meets at 2:30 p. m. Monday and Wednesday afternoons in room 126 of the Household Arts building.

Truths in Epigram

If a man look sharply and attentively, he shall see Fortune; for though she is blind, she is not invisible.—Bacon.

He that complies again his will, is of the same opinion still.—Butler.

Men are but children of a larger growth.—Dryden.

Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as the sunbeam.—Milton.

TO AID GERMAN CHILDREN

Major General Allen, who long commanded the American forces of occupation in Germany, is at the head of a movement to raise enough money to save 2,000,000 German children from starvation this winter. It must be conceded that General Allen has had an almost unexampled chance to observe conditions in Germany. Not only is he an officer of high intelligence, but he is an individual of warm sympathies, not in the least, however, prone to misread facts. When he declares that aid is necessary, the people of the United States may wonder why it is so, but they will realize that it is so.

Millions of people on two continents have been embittered by the German policy; they have learned to hate the whole militaristic swagger of the junkers; they still condemn Germany as having precipitated the world war, but they do not hold any grudge against the children of that land. Appeal on behalf of these unfortunate children comes with exactly the poignancy as though they were of any other race. Children the world over are just—children.

A noted Polish soldier recently stated his belief that Boy Scouts were to save Europe. The children of the present on that continent are not subjected to the training that prevailed, at least in Germany, in the period when the Kaiser was in his glory. Idols have been shattered and ideals changed. Suppose the Boy Scout principles become instilled into the youth of Germany and of France, and the probability must be recognized that through this leaven, the spirit of humanity may be uplifted to a plane affording wider vision and nobler effort.

It is not desirable that children anywhere be permitted to starve. The future is to lie in the hands of the boys and girls of today.

CITY PARKS

Never yet has a city grown to considerable size without having had to provide itself with parks, often at great cost. The city that attends to this matter far in advance is wise. In the early stages of growth there is abundant area to be had cheaply. Later this same area may have to be condemned, the process costing millions of dollars. Many a city has had such an experience, and yet the builders are so lacking in vision that they seem not to have learned the lesson.

Parks, often spoken of as breathing spots, are really more than this. They are safeguards against fire. Part of the great value of Pershing square in Los Angeles lies in the protection it affords. The break it makes in the continuity of structures easily might be the means of preserving half the business district in case of conflagration.

To a certain extent wide streets are similarly useful. They give safe and easy transit, and they present barriers to leaping flames. Notwithstanding this, there are few cities that have been laid out with streets of proper width. There are few cities that have not had to face the necessity of doing, by the expenditure of millions, that which could have been done and should have been done in the beginning at no expenditure whatever.

Los Angeles is suffering because of neglect in both these respects. Doubtless that city will in time work out its serious problem. While it is doing so, the adjacent community of smaller cities, some of them destined to be large, ought to be planning to avoid such mistakes and such losses.

FAVORING FREE SPEECH

The members of a ministerial association recently made a declaration in favor of free speech. In this they were doing nothing unusual. The opinion of most citizens might be quoted as favoring free speech. Indeed, the framers of the constitution anticipated current thought, and made their feelings on the subject quite clear on the same subject. Added to the expression from the ministers was a request to the President that he free political prisoners "who are now being held for expression of opinion or for membership in any organization, except such prisoners as may have been found guilty of specific crime after due indictment and trial."

The late President Harding was accustomed to receive similar requests. At one time he took the matter up seriously, and went in detail over the case of each so-called political prisoner. He was a careful and conscientious man, above all, a humane man. He saw fit to release a few conditionally. They were given their liberty only upon agreement to leave the country to stay, a short time being allotted for preparation. It is fairly to be assumed that Mr. Harding covered the ground adequately, and that if there had been others deserving of freedom, they would have received it.

It is an idle notion that so-called political prisoners are serving sentences because of their expressions of opinion. They are subjected to this inconvenience for the reason that in time of war they interfered with the draft, encouraged disloyalty, assisted slackers, and in every way in their power gave aid and comfort to the enemy. On the part of citizens this conduct had all the color of treason. The offenders were lucky to be under the jurisdiction of so mild a government.

As to belonging to an organization, if the organization is for criminal purposes, membership hardly is to be sanctioned. But the matter rests in good hands, the hands of President Coolidge.

THE ARMY OF THE MISSING

A Los Angeles policewoman of long experience says that 5000 girls and young women disappear from that city each year. Girls start down town shopping, or to go to a show, to visit a friend, or to their regular work. They go without giving sign of intent to take any unusual course. In most instances they had made no provisions for prolonged absence. But so many of them do not return, are seen no more by kin, that in one representative city the army of the missing totals 5000 annually! There is a dual mystery about this. Why do they go? And whither?

The first query is not so difficult to answer. There are homes in which the girl has no opportunity for happiness. Either she has too little liberty or too much. Either she is weary beyond endurance of a sordid atmosphere, or she has been deluded by fleeting glimpses of the outside world. Then there is a new idea of individual independence. There are many girls quite capable of taking care of themselves, anxious to make their own livings, to select their own associates, and form their own careers. In the properly organized home there would be no desire to deny them the opportunity. They would be permitted to go, and their going need not shock parental affection or break the natural ties. But to some, the opportunity is denied, and they refuse to submit.

Yet this does not explain absenteeism wholly. A girl might leave home and follow a respectable occupation without being under the necessity of keeping her activities a secret indefinitely. Having reached an age at which legally she would be her own mistress, she could have nothing to fear in revealing herself. But still the message does not come. The continued silence of the members of the army of the missing is not a good augury. Doubtless numbers of the recruits reach a level at which they lose either desire or the capacity to come back.

Probably no one is jumped on so quickly or so hard as the minister who happens to stray from the straight and narrow path.

THE OWNERSHIP OF BABIES

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

It was Huckelberry Finn, I believe, who suggested that Solomon had so many babies that he was just naturally wasteful of them.

Huckelberry might with truth have made the same comment on a number of mothers. After all when Solomon commanded that an infant be divided and one-half given to each woman who claimed to be its mother he was not handling his own baby; and he knew that the true mother would never consent to the division, but would give up the infant to her rival, as she did, thus establishing her own right to it, as the king intended that she should.

But when mothers take little babies out into the hot sun in uncovered buggies with the noon-day sun blazing in their unprotected eyes they are handling their own babies; and I'll tell the world right here that they are tremendously wasteful of them.

To be sure they are damaging the eyes of the poor little things, and they are in addition torturing them; and I often wonder why.

Do people actually believe that babies can't feel until they get older? They behave as if they did. When the Mesopotamian mother lays her infant in the door of the tent for a mosquito feast so that the rest of the family may sleep serene and untroubled you know it is because she lacks imagination and sympathy. I've heard many an American mother denounce such flint-heartedness and then proceed to lay her own baby on its back and rattle it in the sun for an hour or so, wondering all the while why it screamed.

I'm thinking of this just now because of a protest that has just come to me from a woman who protested such treatment to the mother of the infant who was enduring it. The maternal ancestor of the small martyr immediately spat that it was nobody's business how she treated her "OWN child" and she guessed SHE knew "what was good for a baby."

Maybe she does, but, unfortunately, we have no laws that will make her do what is good for her baby.

This remonstrance is written in the interest of the helpless and in the hope that a few daddies may read it and take steps to see that their babies' eyes are properly protected from the sun.

It's no fun at best to be a baby and I am striving in the name of humanity to reduce the dangers and agonies incident to the necessary and useful condition.

Babies CAN feel, maternal convictions to the contrary notwithstanding.

P. S.—This does not apply to ALL mothers.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Most of us have always thought T. Mulligan Madison rather a superior article. He has a bright, domineering eye, and a fashion of looking at you sideways, and a strong—almost a heavy—way of asking questions. He rarely tells you anything himself. He asks questions and when you reply he grunts. One never can tell whether that grunt is one of approval, but one always hopes. It is positively distressing, sometimes, to see the efforts folks will make to win a kind grunt from T. Mulligan.

"I got a shock this morning," he said at lunch. It was the first time he had ever issued a communique upon his own mental condition, if any. The old gentleman looked rather wild.

"I met a friend of my boyhood days," he said, "and during our talk the fact came home to me that he has made better use of his chances than I have. He has broadened, improved, grown in stature. I felt the size of a peanut."

Mulligan said that when they were boys together he was, if anything, the more clever of the two. Their opportunities have been equal. But the old friend had thought more about the world than about himself. T. Mulligan said that he can see, looking backward, that most of his really powerful thinking was devoted to T. Mulligan. Whereas his friend has kept abreast of life. He knows something of international politics, current literature, economics, pugilism, mah jong. The shaken Mulligan Madison said that he sat at his friend's feet like a small child at its father's knee. Not that his friend tried to run away with the talk.

"I didn't say anything," said Mulligan. "I couldn't. I just listened."

I'll bet a bright new penny, if there are such infinitesimal coins still in circulation, that the friend had been made so nervous by T. Mulligan's superior grunt that he put everything he had in the show-window. It's a certainty that he doesn't think T. Mulligan is stupid. He's probably groveling, right now, because he revealed his infinite pettiness to that great man.

It's a wonderful system, that of T. Mulligan.

THE LISTENING POST

A building has foundation. Walls. These to support and enclose the structure. And then there are ornaments.

For purposes of adornment.

JAMES W. FOLEY

Ornamentation has come from the earliest times of buildings.

The first ornamentations were crude.

A dab of color here and there.

But something to make the structure more than utilitarian.

For there has been from the earliest ages a desire for beauty.

We might not call some of the earliest ornamentations beautiful.

But they were designed to keep the structure from barren utilitarianism.

Savages daubed color.

The first clay work and pottery work made has ornamentation.

A building resembles social structures. They have their solid structure.

Their foundations. Their walls.

And their ornamentations.

It would be a dull social structure that had only foundation and walls and roofs.

Beauty is not essential but it is desirable.

Life would be cold and harsh without art and music and literature.

These are the ornamentations of life.

Its fine sentiments.

Love and friendship are some of the adornments of living and being.

Their ornamentations.

Life would be dull and cheerless without them.

Just as the home would be cheerless without pictures and vases and rugs and colors.

They are not essential.

But they are reasonably necessary.

We cannot all be ornaments of life.

We are not all artists or poets or musicians.

Some of us have to be simple bricks in the wall.

Stones in the foundation.

Or shingles on the roof.

Each of us in his place.

But it is well to remember that solid structure is necessary.

We cannot make a building all of ornament.

Neither can we make a life all of art and music and color.

Much of life has to be practical.

There is brick to be laid.

Mortar to hold the bricks in place.

Nails to hold timbers together.

Shingles to keep out the rain.

Stones to support the walls.

All essential to the building.

So we need not complain if we are simple bricks in the wall.

Stones in the foundation.

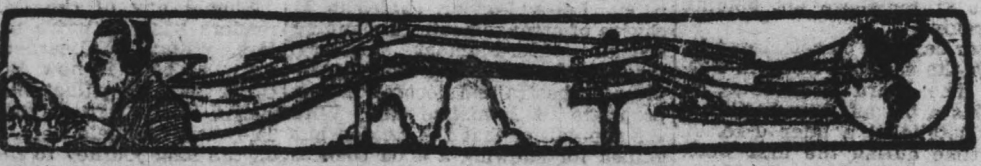

Nails in a board.

Shingles in a roof.

Ours is an essential part of the structure of life.

A good brick in the wall serves its purpose as well as the ornate stained glass of the window.

Without it the building could not stand.

Songs of the Poets

When You Are Old—By William Butler Yeats

When you are old and gray and full of sleep
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down beside the glowing bars,
Murmur, a little sadly, how love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead,
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.

ISOLATED SUPERFLUITY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I AM NOW in receipt of a letter which explains all the things that I have long wondered about.

The letter is anonymous. It could not well be otherwise. No man would dare sign his name to such a fulminating compendium of information.

It is strange how you wonder and wonder about the mysteries of life, the complexities of mathematics and the idiosyncrasies of insanity, and go on wondering and wondering, and then somebody comes along and makes the whole thing clear.

That is the case with this letter. I give it accurately as it was written. I know that the reader will be as astounded as I am at the utter simplicity and clarity of the writer's views. I understand some of our English critics have been complaining of the commonplaceness of my platitudes.

Here at least is something that surely will excite their admiration. The letter follows:

"My Dear Doctor—

"Zev's great straight victory for America shows how the main strength of our country lies in her isolated superfluity. What about the predicted Napoleonism of Count Tolstoy's great prediction with Papyrus the league of nations newspaper champion beaten by five lengths. Can it be said that the U. S. Marines have got the salt monopoly when it comes to considering political conditions in the U. S. In a vision, while Mr. Wilson was President down in Washington, I once saw a symbolization of the prevailing political issue concerning the Democratic and Republican parties in that I saw a thoroughbred pair of horses or super-asses at a race. It led me to taking up the study of horse racing of which I was then in almost total ignorance.

"But I found it to be largely a branch of the modern science of government well worth a Marine's attention.

"Our politicians and Statesmen being what they are can you tell if the development of the World War as it paralleled these events in the United States Marine Corps in 1911 that centered on August 15th of that year in a place in the United States Navy Yard at Norfolk Va. known as the St. Helena Brig.—are they to be interpreted as a precaution for or against them in 1924.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

NO CANCELLATION

[Detroit Free Press]

President Coolidge has shown a great deal of firmness and good sense in his administration of the duties of his office up to this time. He increases the impression that he is equal to his job and that the welfare of the country is safe in his hands by his notice to the heads of the American Bankers' association that they are due to get nothing but hard opposition from the White House for their projected campaign in favor of cancellation of the debts which the Europeans owe this country.

However a few financiers, who consider their special interests, may feel about it, the people of America as a whole have scant sympathy with any debt cancellation scheme. They are committed overwhelmingly to the other way. America does not desire to be hard on Europe.

Even if cancellation might be considered under some circumstances, it certainly would be an error approaching folly for Washington to forgive the debts of people that are showing no evidence of any feeling of moral responsibility for their obligations to this country, that are not even making perfunctory efforts to balance their budgets with a view to regaining a condition of solvency, but are openly spending all the spare money they can get their hands on in order to further mad imperialistic schemes, build up armaments and prepare for war.

It may be that the United States is not going to get some of the money due it, either now or hereafter, but that is no reason why America should condone dereliction, especially where by so doing it may easily become an

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

Some of the insulters of Lloyd George at New York were clubbed by police, but unfortunately, others got away.

The arrest of a film woman on charge of extortion is something new in the publicity line.

Mexican political leaders are trying to keep their adherents from fighting. Nothing similar is noticed in this country.

Many bank clerks are getting so expert with the pistol that they really yearn for bandits to practise on.

Soviet gold is said to have been sent into this country "to obtain recognition." It was recognized on sight.

Germany's ex-royal prince is permitted to return, but is understood to be pledged not to start anything.

Americans are understood to have procured oil rights in Russia. With the usual string attached, of course.

accessory before the fact of a new European row.

As far as the argument that we must help the Old World by erasing its debts or see our foreign trade suffer is concerned, surely this country cannot be expected to believe that it will permanently improve its commerce by pauperizing its customers.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Premier Mussolini says that a dictatorship can last forever if properly managed. It would be interesting to know on what he founds so curious a belief. There has been many dictatorships in the history of the world, but none that has displayed any tendency to last forever.

As a rule the power of a dictator dies with him, or it dies first. It is as strong as the man who waxes it; when his hand is stricken, the dictatorship becomes nothing but a memory. Mussolini has proved himself a powerful executive. He has made his word to be law. There is no reason to suppose that a law that is efficacious because of the continuing presence of the maker of it, is to so remain after he has ceased to be a personal and living force.

A dictatorship is not an abiding system. It is the expression of an individual. Its welfare is bound up in the fortunes and the life of that individual. Let him be removed, and the structure of his rearing necessarily falls, since he alone had been its foundation and its pillars.

The new governor of Lower California was called upon by a delegation of radicals. A few minutes later he was observed to be throwing them into the street. "We want no reds in Lower California," he said, dusting off his hands.

Apparently Lower California has the sort of executive it has been needing.

Investigation of the Veterans' bureau shows that certain cheap clerks took upon themselves to over-ride the orders of their superiors. This resulted, for one thing, in the expenditure of large sums for which there had been no value received.

Before the inquiry is over, the clerks ought to be rounded up and made to tell what ailed them, and if they took anything for it.

Premier Poincaré still makes a fiery speech declining to consider remission of any part of German reparations, but his remarks are thought to be for home consumption.

It hardly seems probable that France is determined to defy international opinion, or risk losing the very friendships without which in recent times the country must have perished.

Fines of bootleggers in a single month in the court of one Los Angeles justice amounted to $100,000.

Bootlegging may be profitable, but it is doubtful if it can long stand such a drain and continue to declare dividends.

At this writing posers are chasing a group of bandits. Word comes back that "all avenues of escape have been cut off."

It is singular how little bandits appear to care whether "avenues of escape have been cut off." They escape just the same. Perhaps, knowing the condition of the avenues they decline to travel them, but utilize the space between.

According to William T. Hornaday of the New York zoo there are 500,000 men in this country who annually kill game. He says that 90 per cent of these hunters kill all they can. The result, as everybody knows, is that wild game is disappearing.

Birds that once were to be seen in great number have almost vanished. The prairie chicken, formerly abundant, is seen no more. The wild turkey is close to extinction. Deer, of course, are doomed. They are harmless and beautiful, not needed for food, and so the men with guns have determined to wipe them out. It all seems brutal and foolish.

Every state in the union needs severer restrictions touching every variety of game. There should be federal laws protecting migratory birds.

Few hunters have any excuse for hunting, but they are impelled, perhaps quite unwittingly, by a latent savagery that is expressed in the love of violence and a desire to shed blood. What are the poor chaps to do for sanguinary sport when the game is all gone? Either visit the abattoir, or take pot shots at each other, no other alternative suggesting itself. The hope that they will cease being savage is too flimsy to consider.

Up in Fresno they have a woman in jail on charge of a murder, to which she is said to have confessed. Had she not been detected, and then had succeeded in two more murders, there would have been nothing between her and possession of a valuable farm.

Shakespeare put into the mouth of Macbeth something concerning "vaulting ambition which o'erleaps itself."

The Fresno female seems to have had precisely this sort.

"How great a matter a little fire kindleth" to be sure.

Two at the breakfast table, wife prods a grapefruit; seed flies out smack into husband's eye. Husband sees just clearly enough to fetch wife a wallop. Next and final chapter in the divorce court.

Police Chief Vollmer of Los Angeles says that his men are offered $500,000 a year in bribes.

But if they never take any, it must be that the same money is offered many times, so the total of real cash is not so vast.

They have one of Villa's former generals in jail for fraud, but he may find comfort in the thought that he gets off easier than his old commander did.

Old Mr. Tom was a bachelor who loved children. He paid a visit at Betty's house and made love to Betty, aged four.

"I'm going to the garden," said she. "Want to come?"

"I'd be very glad to," said he courteously.

"Take my hand and don't step on the borders," said she gravely, and stepping as though in a minute the two went into the garden.

"First we'll smell and then we'll pick," announced the young lady.

"Here, smell this, you'll love it," and he bent his head to catch a whiff of lemon verbena.

"Like it? Now smell this," she ordered.

"That's mint. I don't like much of that," said Mr. Tom wiping the end of his nose vigorously as though to rid it of all mint forever.

"O, yes, you do!" said Betty jauntily. "Here! Smell the catnip."

"Mercy, no! Who'd want to smell catnip?" remonstrated the gentle victim.

"Yes. Smell it. It's good for you." The tone and gesture was imperious and he bent and sniffed lightly.

"Now I think we'll pick. What's your favorite color?"

"Blue."

"Then you can pick a bit of larspur. Here. So. And I'll have a bit of lace flower. O, here's a bee. I'm going to pick the bee," and Betty giggled gleefully.

"No, don't, said Mr. Tom sharply. "Betty, leave that bee alone! I tell you leave that bee alone. It will sting you. Stop it!"

And he actually slapped Betty's wrist with one finger. He felt that he had to use extreme measures and that flick of a finger was the most he could bring himself to do.

"I will pick a bee," said the little lady stamping her foot.

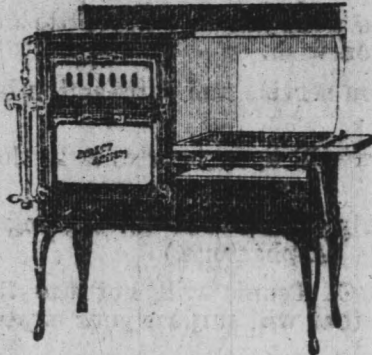

She picked a honey bee and he resented such untimely interference with his work.

"Ow, ow owl. The bee bit me! The bee bit me!" she wailed.

NEW TESTAMENT STORY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST AND JESUS, MODERNIZED

"If you are God's son, tell these stones to turn into bread!" But he answered,

"The Scripture says, 'Not on bread alone is man to live, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God!'"

Then the devil took him to the holy city, and made him stand on the summit of the Temple, and said to him,

"If you are God's son, throw yourself down, for the Scripture says,

"He will give his angels orders about you. And they will lift you up with their hands

So that you may never strike your foot against a stone!"

Jesus said to him,

"The Scripture also says, 'You shall not try the Lord your God.'"

Again the devil took him to a very high mountain, and he showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor, and said to him,

"I will give all this to you, if you will fall on your knees and do homage to me."

Then Jesus said to him,

"Begone, Satan! For the Scripture says, 'You must do homage to the Lord your God, and worship him alone!'"

Then the devil left him, and angels came and waited on him.

But when Jesus heard that John had been arrested, he retreated to Galilee. And he left Nazareth and went and settled in Capernaum, by the sea, in the district of Zebulon and Naphtali, in fulfillment of what was said by the prophet Isaiah.

"Zebulon's land, and Naphtali's land, Along the road to the sea, across the Jordan, Galilee of the nations!

The people that were living in darkness Have seen a great light,

And on those who were living in the land of the shadow of death

A light has dawned!"

From that time Jesus began to preach and say,

"Repent! for the Kingdom of Heaven is coming!"

As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon, who was afterward called Peter, and his brother, Andrew, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. He said to them,

"Come and follow me, and I will make you fish for men!"

They immediately dropped their nets and went with him. And he went on a little farther and saw two other men who were brothers, James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother, John, in the boat with Zebedee, their father, putting their nets in order, and he called them. And they immediately left the boat and their father, and went with him.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden, a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure. You can take off the fat, where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a case today. All druggists the world over sell them, at one dollar for a case or you can order them direct from the Marmola Co., 412 Woodward Av., Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

TRUNK SHAKER IS NAME OF NEW MACHINE

"A trunk shaker" is the name of a new machine which is now finding popularity in Glendale.

No, it is not being used by "baggage-smashers" but instead is part of the equipment in the office of Dr. James A. Belyea at 111 East Broadway. A quarter horsepower motor causes handles to shake back and forth. To each handle is placed the end of a strap which passes around the trunk of the body. The shaking motion of this strap has a tendency to break up the fatty molecules of the body. It is reported that a patient, who desires to "reduce" may lose a pound a day.

PLAYS WILL BE GIVEN ON NOV. 16

Charlotte Busby, Florence McLaughlin, and Grace Hopper Take Leads

CROWD IS ASSURED

Hard Work on Part of Casts Will Make a Big Success

Tickets for the three one-act plays to be given by High students, will go on sale Tuesday, November 13. Those showing student body tickets will pay but ten cents, others 25. The student body tickets will also have to be shown at the door the night of the plays. There will be no reserved seats that night. "Miss Molly," by Elizabeth Cady, "The Lord's Prayer," by Francis Coppee and "Goodnight," by Leland Bruce are the three plays which have been chosen by Mr. Brewster. The cast for "Miss Molly" is as follows:

Molly..... Florence McLaughlin
Reginald..... Harry Murphy
Julian..... Harwin Maun
Joe..... Paul Cunningham
Pearl..... Valera Trimmer
Claire..... Doris Osmun
Aunt Annie..... Mildred Sooy
Those who have been chosen for the cast of "The Lord's Prayer" are:

Mademoiselle Rose..... Charlotte Busby
Mere Blanche..... Zelma Bunting
Zelee..... Isabel Toussay
The Cure..... Alfred Gungor
Jacques La Rod..... Glenn Roberts
Officer..... Charles Worley
Soldier..... Horace Anderson

The students who make up the cast for "Goodnight" are:

Mrs. Payne Dexter..... Grace Hopper
Grace (Dick)..... Nadine King
Kathryn (Molly)..... Kathryn McNary
Thelma..... Thelma Knudson
Mabel (Maggie)..... Mabel Welch
Mrs. Stone..... Margaret Brown
Carpenter..... Sarah Trump

For the plays just an impressionistic idea of the setting will be used, suggesting the scenes. Too much realism will not be attempted as it would be very difficult to change the scenery for three entirely different acts. Simplicity will be the keynote of the plays.

The setting for "Miss Molly" will be in an old woman hater's house, a misanthrope. His pretty niece, Molly, comes into the house as a governess and plans to win his millions. By her clever acting and scheming she finally wins not only his millions but the uncle himself. In the cottage scene in "The Lord's Prayer," the same setting will be used. This play takes place during the revolutionary period in France. Many pretty and quiet costumes are worn in it. The last play is supposed to be a rehearsal of the modern play, "Dawn" by Percival Wilde. The Women's Uplift society is practicing the play and many humorous situations occur during this rehearsal. There will not be any special scenery or costumes for this play as it is supposed to be only a rehearsal.

Every year the dramatic department puts on the plays and it is a much looked forward to event by the students of Glendale high. This year the plays under the direction of Mr. Brewster promise to be three of the best plays Glendale high has ever had. The casts are composed of clever and talented people and under Mr. Brewster's supervision are doing wonderfully. The high school orchestra will play a few selections that evening.

Both Glenn Roberts, secretary of assemblies, and Mr. Brewster, have worked very hard to make these plays a success. The admission is less this year than ever before so all students should come to the plays as they will certainly be worth while.

VARIETY SHOW, ANNUAL AFFAIR, TO BE HELD DEC. 13

The annual Variety Show will be held December 13 and 14, and, according to present plans, in the auditorium of the new plant of Glendale Union high school.

This has been an annual event in the school calendar since 1914 and each successive student body administration endeavors to produce the most successful show.

The central committee which has this year's show in hand, composed of Glenn Roberts, chairman; Mrs. George U. Moyse and A. L. Ferguson, vice principals; Dante LaFranchi, senior; Richard Ryan, junior; Read Stearnman, sophomore; and Marjorie Nelson, freshman.

The program will consist of dramatics, gymnastics, and musical numbers which are now in rehearsal.

BOARD OF EDUCATION WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

Members of the Glendale board of education will meet Wednesday noon to take action in regard to closing the city schools on Armistice Day. Public schools will be closed in Pasadena and Los Angeles and it is probable the Glendale board will follow the example of those cities.

"A BRIDAL AND A BIRTH" IS REV. W. E. EDMONDS' THEME

At the morning service of the Glendale Presbyterian church the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, took for his sermon theme, "A Bridal and a Birth." The thought was based on John 2:11 and 3:7. The speaker said that the second chapter of John is a bridal scene and the third chapter a cradle scene. Both scenes suggest life. The wine pictures the life that runs out, the birth the life that never ends, everlasting life. The cry of Mary the mother of Jesus was "They have no wine." The wine of earth runs out, the waters of earth fail. Then the Master comes. Man's extremity is God's opportunity.

1.—The fact of it. "Ye must be born again." The how of everything is mysterious. The must be plain. I do not know how fire burns, but I know it must burn if a world is warmed. I do not know how corn and cotton grow, but I know they must if a world is fed and clothed. I do not know how taking food makes blood and gives strength, but I know it must be if we are to live. I do not know how we are born again, but I know it must be if we are ever to get to heaven. Christ said so.

2.—The mystery of it. Jesus does not attempt to explain it. It is a mystery. Life is always a mystery. Birth is always a mystery. Spiritual birth is a mystery. You know it comes but the how of it is hidden with God. Don't try to go into the secrets of regeneration. Look at Jesus by faith and while you look the change will occur.

The great principle is that it is a new life. It is not culture or improvement or evolution, but a new birth and life.

The new birth is not merely getting religion. Nicodemus was religious. Man is incurably religious. But apart from the new birth his soul is lost in spite of his religion. It is not a new religion but a new heart, and that is only possible through regeneration.

Jesus Christ does make a wonderful explanation, "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness even so must the Son of Man be lifted up." They who looked upon this serpent of brass were healed. Christ says, "Look unto me and be ye saved, all ye ends of the earth." We must not expect salvation by looking at the church or its ordinances. They are simply the poles. We must look to Christ for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby ye must be saved.

EIGHT CAR LOADS OF 'CHEVS' IN TWO DAYS GOING SOME

C. L. Smith, corner Orange and Colorado, breaks another record. This consisted of unloading five carloads of "Chevies" on Monday. That's going some for it establishes a record in Glendale for any and all makes of cars.

But that is not all. C. L. has three more cars that are being unloaded today, making eight in the two days. That is going some more.

"We have all models of Chevies, lets now for immediate delivery," said Mr. Smith this morning. "But they will not last long. Quite a number of the cars received were sold before they struck Glendale and the others are going fast. Those wishing to get in on this 'immediate delivery' should place their orders at once. The real class to this new 'Chevie' is resulting in wonderful demand."

MRS. PENDER FINED $95 FOR RESISTING AN OFFICER

Mrs. Golden G. Pender of the Spanish cafe, on Friday was fined $95 for resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty. The officer was undertaking to levy an execution. She claimed in defense that he did not exhibit proof that he was an officer of the law, and she threatens to carry the case to a higher court.

Says Piles Heal Up and Disappear Forever

Seldom Fails to Give Absolute Relief from All Pain and Suffering. Guaranteed by All Good Druggists.

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief.

They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained. MOAVA is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and any sufferer from Piles or Hemorrhoids who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.—Adv.

YOU CAN'T PLAY THE KICKING GAME WITHOUT A KICKER

You can't play the kicking game unless you have a kicker. This fact has been demonstrated on two successive Saturdays on More field. Jimmy Cline's Southern Branch Cubs have gone into both of the conference games they have played so far with the idea to play the kicking game and have been defeated both times because they have no kicker. Cap Harrison and Loren Peak, the only men Cline has attempted to use as punters, have shown themselves to be at the best rather poor kickers. Neither of them can kick for distance and usually both of them are blocked. The Cubs have not been able to convert a goal after a touchdown this year. They have been out-punted in every contest they have played and the queer part about it is that they are still attempting to play the kicking game. In the Pomona contest Saturday they lost ground time after time on exchanges of punts, and it was in this way that the Sageshens got within scoring distance several times. In one instance, after they had held Pomona on the two-yard line for four downs Harrison attempted to punt out of danger. The ball went out of bounds on the ten-yard line and as a result the Sageshens again had the ball within scoring distance and soon hung up a tally by completing a pass behind the goal line. If the Cubs had a kicker this year like Gordon White, the great star of the Bruin team, they could play the kicking game to perfection and win every time. There has never been a kicker in these parts like Gordon White who is now playing up at Berkeley. Without a real kicker the Cubs are at a loss, especially in playing the type of game they have attempted against Whittier and Pomona. You can't play the kicking game without a kicker.

If there is any player who ever deserves mention for his work in a football game, it is Loren Peak, fullback of the Southern Branch eleven for his part in the Pomona contest Saturday. Although unable to kick, Peak played the most brilliant game of any man on the field until he was injured in the third quarter. At the time he left the field the score was 7 to 6. After his removal the Cubs went to pieces and allowed the Sageshens to score 20 points on them. Peak plunged right through the Blue line after time and carried the ball in several crisp passes that netted considerable yardage each time. He played a great game, the best of any Cub performer this year.

LIGHTWEIGHTS TO PLAY ALHAMBRA
THURSDAY

Alhambra High will send their lightweight eleven over to Glendale to battle Coach Butterfield's "bustlers." After the Monrovia game there is a lot more of respect for Glendale, because of their decisive victory.

"Nucos" has been working his charges steadily during the past week and the entire squad is in fine condition and "on their toes." The tackling dummy plays an important part in their nightly workouts. The second string squad of heavyweights has been used in scrimmaging the lightweights different nights and it is an even battle. The lightweight backfield is fleet and shifty and the heavier boys find it hard to move fast enough to stop them.

Alhambra has a good team this year and as a great deal of rivalry has always existed between Glendale and Alhambra it is hoped that the lightweights will take them into camp. Muff is showing the same old fight and certainly fills the position as captain well. Lovell has been booting the piskin all week and if Glendale has to punt Glendale can be relied upon. La Franchi and McAllister have improved considerably in the art of interference and also tackling.

Whenever it becomes necessary to resort to an aerial attack, Butterfield's eleven will "make 'em terf." The two ends, Jonkey and Thompson, showed class in running down punts in the Monrovia fracas and both of these players are no slouches at catching passes. Walt Wastcott, captain of the Cub eleven, did not get a chance to show much stuff. Due to injuries received some time ago he did not start the game and was sent in in the last quarter when the score was so lopsided that all effort was to no avail.

PIRATES MAY YET PLAY HERE

Los Angeles may yet see the Pittsburgh Pirates in action. Barney Dryfus, owner of the club, in a letter to Oscar Riechew, business manager of the Angels, expresses regret that the Pirates were not booked here. When on the coast, Sam Dryfus, son of Barney, booked the Pirates for all their games in the north. Owner Dryfus says his club seems to have been unfortunate in not getting games with Los Angeles and hopes that if there are open dates remaining the matter can be arranged at the annual meeting of the various leagues in Chicago.

TOURNAMENT

The junior racket men of Glendale High school took the first tournament with a 12 to 4 score, the juniors winning all the sets except the first man singles, which was won by Lewellyn White, the first man for the freshmen.

The first doubles was a very close match, the final score being 6-3, 3-6, 7-5. The freshie team, White and Sunderland, put up a very gallant fight and gave the upstarters, Lee and Osborne, a run for the money.

The second doubles, played by Hardy and Haskins vs. Kline and Halstead was taken by the junior team with a 6-2, 3-6, 6-1 score. The freshie team did a great deal better than was expected when they captured the second set, 6-3. Lewellyn White showed his stuff by defeating Lee Osborne, 6-3, 6-1. Lewellyn sure has the ball where he wants it. Good network was the feature of the match. Kenny Lee took Sunderland's breath in a set, 6-2, 6-3. Sunderland played gamely but was very tired and could put no speed behind the ball. Lee showed his skill when it came to placing. Hardy beat Finch, 6-1, 6-1 in an easy manner, having very little trouble. Hardy has a great many good strokes, and seems to be able to place them with good effect.

CUBS ARE OUT OF THE PENNANT RUNNING

Oxy, Caltech, Pomona and Whittier Now Battle for Honors

Last week's games in the Southern California conference put one more team out of the championship race. The Southern Branch eleven, by losing to Pomona, dropped out of the running, leaving four squads still struggling for supremacy.

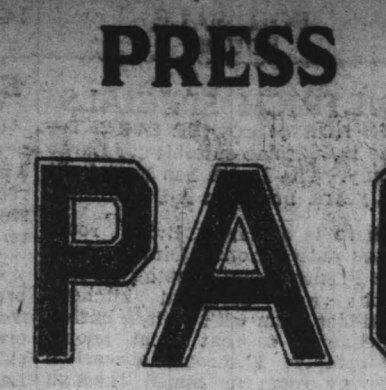

Occidental, by virtue of her win over the Whittier Poets, stepped into the lead with two victories and no defeats, but she has played one loss game than her three trailing competitors, Whittier, Pomona and Caltech, who are all tied for second position.

At present it appears as if the Tigers and the Sageshens have the edge and if both can come through the next couple of weeks with a clear record the annual conflict between the two institutions will decide the championship. Add that extra inducement to the great rivalry between Pomona and Occidental and you have the cause for a game which should draw a capacity crowd to Pomona on November 24 to see the battle.

Occidental will meet Caltech at Tournament Park in the most important game of the afternoon. Whittier travels to Pomona and Redlands comes down to the Southern Branch in the other two scheduled contests.

The Engineer-Tiger tilt should find both squads in the pink of condition and the fact that a defeat for either one will put out of the race makes it certain that there will be no playing under cover.

The Whittier-Pomona game is another cut-throat affair, the loser dropping out of the title race. Ed Suggert is rapidly getting back into his old-time form and should bother the Sageshens plenty but team for team the Pomona bunch looms up a little stronger than the Quakers.

STANFORD TEAM
SHOWS STRENGTH
IN ITS COMEBACK

Cardinals Show Up in Old Form; Look Real Class

By HARRY M. BENNETT, Jr.
(Daily Press Sport Correspondent)
(Exclusive Dispatch)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 6.—Doying local critics and their doings the Stanford Cards stepped back into the place they lost a week ago when they were defeated by the Olympic Club line for 40-14 and only permitted the Wings O men 7 points when they opened a brilliant aerial attack in the last few moments of play. With Campbell the only first string man in the backfield of Andy Kerr's rebuilt machine, they ushered the ball down the field in the very beginning and sent Cuddeback over the last chalk for the first score in three minutes of play.

When Scotch Campbell fumbled a punt soon after the second kickoff the Cardinals got the ball and attempted a drop kick from the 35-yard line. The ball went wide with Cuddeback taking possession on the 15-yard chalk and romped 85 yards for a touchdown.

Though no score was made in the second quarter the team, mostly second string men, showed results of a week of careful study. Solomon was certainly there playing as never before, many times he smothered an Olympic sure-gainer and his tackling was always sure and hard. On the offense he piled up many a yard for the Redshirt crew.

Scotch Campbell showed up exceptionally well calling signals from halfback position and with his dazzling speed through broken fields. Following the kick-off in the third quarter he ran the ball back to the Olympic thirty-yard line, eluding all but the safety man who nailed him and prevented an additional six or seven points.

By defeating the Olympic bunch,

SANTA FE CIGARS
DEFEAT CARLOCKS

Stanford laid the foundation toward rebuilding her reputation for the season. One defeat by a first rate team did not keep the Trojans down. They came back the following week fully twenty-five per cent stronger and defeated the Cards and have been going strong ever since. Saturday the Cards won a victory over no snide team. The Wings O is known to have some of the best players on the coast in its line-up and has held California to a 16-0 score.

Second string men were pretty much in the majority owing to the long hospital list but the Oregon game will undoubtedly see most of the men back for the only man out permanently is Jim Lawson.

Oregon and Idaho are the only two games on the Card schedule before the "big game" with California which is their ultimate goal. The U. S. C. defeat has made it impossible to call the year a record one but the boys "on the record" intend making it a "great" one by walloping the rest of their opponents and dragging home the Bear for a big barbecue on the evening of November 24.

Some of the things you ought to know can be learned in no other way than by reading the advertisements.

GOOD BOUTS ON
BOXING CARD
TONIGHT

Battling Ward Meets Eddie Brown in the Main Event

Battling Ward and Eddie Brown will clash in the main event of the Glendale Athletic club boxing show at Hahn's auditorium this evening. They will enter the ring at 130 pounds, and will give local fight fans one of the best battles seen in these parts in some time.

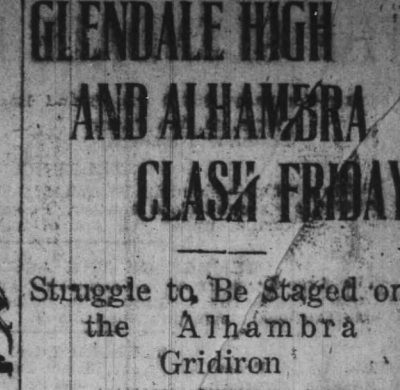

Ward has fought the preliminary bouts here several times and has made a big hit with the bugs, so his advance to the main affair will prove a big drawing card. Eddie Brown is a Los Angeles boxer and has not appeared in the local ring before.

A crowd that will fill the auditorium is anticipated by Les Marston, matchmaker. In the three events staged by the club the audience has been exceptionally good. At each music has been supplied by the Letter Carriers' band, which will play this evening.

Feetie Essick will take on Fred Klagee in the semi-windup. Klagee has been in a couple of scraps here before and his appearance here will be welcomed. Essick was scheduled to fight in a preliminary the first week of the Athletic club bouts, but illness prevented. He is now fter Klagee's hide.

Ralph Meyers will take on Jimmy Berry in what should turn out to be a fast bout. Both are new to the local ring, but are said to have the real stuff. Packey Flynn will meet Ted Rose in a battle that should be popular with the fans. Both fighters have displayed their wares here before and those who are capable of putting up a real scrap. Young Kelly will be matched with Fred Wallace in the curtain raiser.

The bouts will be held in Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand at 8:30 this evening.

GLENDALE HIGH AND ALHAMBRA
CLASH FRIDAY

Struggle to Be Staged on the Alhambra Gridiron

This Friday Glendale High will journey to the fair city of Alhambra and there attempt to outpoint the high school eleven. A big crowd is expected to go over and watch the Dynamiters attempt to blow up the Moors. This is the fourth league game and a big chance of the pennant for Glendale depends on this game.

The schedule last year was so arranged that Alhambra was the last opponent and they ventured forth on Moors field, only to be sent home with an 18 to 6 defeat hung onto them. 'Tis rumored that the Moors are planning revenge this year and the fact that they will play on their home field makes things look interesting.

Lately the Red and Black line has been charging like stallions and if they keep on this way forward wall will have a rough afternoon. The backfield is getting faster every game and are improving in the art of running interference.

Tackling is one of the things which many of the fellows need practice in and every night the dummy is dragged forth for a pretty long session. "Pop" Hayhurst stands right nearby and watches the progress of each griddle in hitting 'em low.

Many formations which were rather hazy to the fellows before are now much clearer because of daily blackboard talks and through signal practice. "Darling" Darrell Elliott is kept busy thinking up new plays while "scrubs" read signals during scrimmages.

There are a number of fellows who have dropped from the squad because of ineffectibility, but the old spirit is still in them. Two good linemen, Hibbs and Hartman, are among these unfortunate. Hartman comes out for practice every night, however, in the hope that he can help to develop a winning team by giving the varsity boys opposition. That is the sort of spirit that prevails throughout the squad. Murphy has been laid up lately with an injured neck, but is rapidly recovering. The game will start promptly at 8:30 on the Alhambra field, so everyone is urged to start early and avoid the traffic jam, for the Glendale bunch is going to be out with bells on; in other words, get out the "gasoline percolator," fill it up with rooters and "percolate" over to Alhambra Friday afternoon.

AUTO REPAIRING

"SO EASY"

Clutch Attachment for Chevrolet Cars

There is nothing so annoying or injurious as the constant grabbing of a clutch which has a tendency to loosen the mechanical parts from the radiator. The rear end and is extremely unpleasant to the ones riding in the car. After this grabbing has taken place for a short time there is a likelihood of its tearing the whole rear end out, which is an unnecessary expense if you will only realize the clutch of any car needs occasional attention. You will have a smooth, easy but positive action thereby saving yourself expensive repairs bills and make riding a pleasure. The SO EASY makes a good clutch better.

URGES BANK ADS IN NEWSPAPERS

Banker Tells National Association They Are Essential Aids to Business Building.

PRESENTS PRACTICAL PLAN

Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association Offers Prepared Newspaper Advertising Service to Cover a Year's Campaign.

More newspaper advertising by banks as a business builder was strongly urged at the recent convention of the American Bankers Association by W. R. Morehouse of the organization's Savings Bank Division. He backed up his plea with definite action to stimulate advertising by savings banks by calling the attention of the members to a prepared newspaper advertising service developed by his division comprising copy to meet their requirements for a year's advertising schedule.

"It is my firm conviction that banks can use newspaper advertising with great success," Mr. Morehouse said. "Newspapers go into the homes—by their use as a medium the people of a whole community may be reached in a single day. Because a bank cannot directly trace a large volume of new business to newspaper advertising does not prove that the medium is ineffective as a business-builder."

"The fact that there are certain kinds of newspaper advertising which do not produce good results ought not to brand the medium as ineffective any more than the fact that because a certain booklet or certain business-building letter fails to pull would warrant you in branding all booklets and all letters as non-productive mediums."

How to Advertise

"Newspaper advertising must be attractive and easily read if it is to produce good results. If the subject presented is not to the point, is too deeply involved for the average mind to grasp readily, is too full of big and uncommon words, it is only natural that it will not be read. If bank advertising is to accomplish its purpose it must be very simple."

"Discuss only the subjects which will make it easy for the public to patronize your bank. Advise your bank, its financial stability, its officers, directors and stockholders, and you will build prestige and strengthen public confidence in your institution. Enumerate the various kinds of service your bank is prepared to render. It has been my experience that the public is on the lookout for information about banks, banking methods and the kinds of service rendered by banks. For quick results I am a firm believer in sticking to subjects which have a direct bearing on banks, banking methods and service, until the public has become better informed about banks and the wide variety of services rendered by them.

A New Plan

"If you have not been successful with newspaper advertising, try this plan. Confine your advertising within the scope of banking and especially enumerate the various services which your bank is prepared to offer. Boil down every advertisement to one hundred words or less, preferably less. Use headings which arouse interest at a glance. For example, a head 'INTEREST FROM DATE' will inspire action on the part of persons with idle funds to deposit because interest starts from the time savings accounts are opened. A heading 'PROTECTION FOR YOUR VALUABLES' will inspire action on the part of persons in need of protection."

HOW TO CATCH FAKE STOCK SALESMEN

Some state bankers' associations are distributing an investor's questionnaire with the idea of protecting purchasers of securities from fake stock salesmen. "Whenever you are solicited to purchase stock or other securities, use this questionnaire before investing any of your funds," says one of these. "The questionnaire was compiled to protect the small investor and to emphasize the necessity of investigating thoroughly every investment proposition before placing any money therein. When you have been furnished with the information called for in this questionnaire, take it to any one of the banking institutions in your community and get its opinion of the stock offered. If the stock salesman refuses to fill out this questionnaire, have nothing more to do with his proposition, as it is evident that he is fostering a fraudulent promotion."

The questionnaire pins the salesman down to answering the following questions:

Date.....
Name of company.....
Name of salesman.....
Kind of stock offered.....
Total issue of stock.....
Stock given for property.....
Kind of stock offered.....
Total issue of stock.....
Are you taking any Liberty Bonds?.....
If so, at what price?.....
Amount of cash needed.....
Par value of stock.....
Market price of stock.....
Has the stock a ready market?.....
If so, where is it listed?.....
Is the stock accepted by banks as collateral for loans?.....
If so, what banks have accepted it?.....
What are the present net earnings?.....
Bank references.....
Names of officers.....
Former occupation.....

COUNCIL ORDERS MUCH STREET IMPROVEMENT

Truck and Roadster Are Ordered and Funds Transferred

The improvement of Alameda avenue from Fourth to Mountain, in the extreme northwest part of the city, was ordered by the Glendale city council last night. The contract was awarded to Frank R. Moser, a new street contractor in Glendale, whose bid was $27,787.39. This was the lowest bid on the original estimate and was $65.18 less than that of the next lowest bidder. Work on this thoroughfare will be started within a short time.

A petition was received by the council for the improvement of Alpha road with 8-inch water pipe. After considerable discussion the engineer and city attorney were instructed to draw up the necessary proceedings for this work. An effort, it is understood, will be made to widen this road, which is just 20 feet wide at this time.

The matter of granting to Dr. O. A. Dietrich, 135 West Laurel, a permit to operate a hospital, was laid over for one week, this matter to be investigated by the city manager in the meantime.

W. J. Kern was awarded the contract for the improvement of railroad street.

Cornwell & Henderson were awarded the contract for the improvement of Patterson and Fairview.

The contract for the improvement of Stanley avenue and a portion of Verdugo road was awarded to E. L. Fleming.

Peter Dederich, manager of the public service department, was authorized to purchase one Moreland truck, and on motion of Councilman Sam Davis $2500 was authorized transferred from the supply and expense appropriation of the division of repairs to improved streets in the capital outlay appropriation of the division of the street department, this to assist in covering the cost of the truck.

An ordinance was offered by Councilman W. A. Horn, ordering the setting aside of Central avenue from Wilson to Lexington as a business district.

The manager of the public service department was authorized to purchase a Dodge roadster for use in the city work.

On motion of Councilman Sam Davis $125 was transferred from the salary appropriation of the division of street department to the capital outlay appropriation division of the engineering department.

On motion of Councilman Hall $160 was ordered transferred from the supply and expense appropriation division of the motorcycle service to the capital outlay appropriation of the office of police. This is to take care of the badges for the police department.

A PLEA FOR MOLLIE JANE

Dear Lord, please bless the Robbinses across the street from me. I'm sure that you would like them, for they're nice as they can be; And Billy Robbins is my chum; and Mollie Jane's a girl Who's big enough to cook their meals and keep their hair in curl, And put their shoes and stockings on and send them off to school; She knows the hymns and how to sew and keep the Golden Rule, And fix her father's lunch for him, because he goes away And takes it with him in a pail, to work out by the day.

I wish you'd bless Robbinses—there's five of them in all, With Mollie Jane and Billy, and three others who're quite small; Their mother's gone to heaven, Lord—she's right up there with you, And she'd be glad—I'm sure she would—for anything you'd do, And Billy wants to tell her not to worry any more, For he helps do the washing now and scrubs the kitchen floor, And chops the wood and does the chores. And please, Lord, make it plain That Bill and I are going to take good care of Mollie Jane.

Dear Lord, please, won't you bless them all and tell their mother so? Tell her they're getting on quite well, and Bill wants her to know He makes the beds for Mollie Jane and washes dishes, too, And comes home early afternoons if there is much to do. They're just across the street from us, and nice as they can be, And maybe you could tell some friends of yours to go and see What they can do for Mollie Jane, who needs help now and then, And Bill and I will do the best we can.

Dear Lord—Amen!

IN 'HOLLYWOOD' AT THE GATEWAY IS THE REAL THING

Photoplay patrons everywhere are greatly interested in "Hollywood."

Imagine getting an intimate glimpse of behind the scenes at the big studios, seeing all the noted stars and directors at work, viewing the familiar scenes of the western film capital—the hotels, the boulevards, studios, bungalows, bowl, etc.

That's what "Hollywood," which is showing at the Gateway theater today brings to the screen and with it a very enjoyable tale of a middle western family which goes to Hollywood and gets entangled with the great industry that has made the community as famous as Paris itself.

There's a fine romantic strain, love interest in plenty and an abundance of comedy of the best quality.

Several faces unfamiliar to the screen public will appear in leading roles, which adds zest to the whole thing, but the "support" includes many screen notables of international prominence.

Remember, vaudeville, the real thing, five thrilling acts, full of fun, mystery and skill, tomorrow.

SIX NOTED FILM STARS IN 'SIX DAYS' NOW AT T. D. & L.

The all-star cast at one time was considered something new in the picture world. But now it has become the accepted thing with motion picture audiences. Producers in their efforts to make a higher class of pictures have seen the necessity of selecting the best players available.

Charles, Brabin, in his production of "Six Days," now at the T. D. & L. theater, spent more than a month in choosing players for the cast.

Corlone Griffith and Frank Mayo, who head the brilliant list, have long been stars in their own right. Maude George, Spottiswoode, Aiken, Charles Cary and Claude King are all well known. King is admirably suited to the role he portrays in "Six Days."

THREE RIVERS, Quebec.—It is proposed to extend the wharves at Three Rivers and to equip them with the most modern machinery for the loading and unloading of ships. Parliament will be called upon next season to authorize the spending of over $1,000,000.

FAMOUS CITIES OF OLD ENGLAND SHOWN IN FILM

In order to obtain an exact replica of the little cathedral city of Tisbury, as described by A. S. M. Hutchinson in his book, "If Winter Comes," Harry Millard, who directed the William Fox screen version of the novel, went to England and, with Mr. Hutchinson, personally selected locations in two of the most famous cathedral cities. These scenes are outstanding features of the picture, which is showing this week at the Glendale theater.

Two of the cities used are Winchester, where Sabre's house was found, and Canterbury, where are situated the book store of Fortune, East, and Sabre, and the barracks of the famous Pinks.

Both cities are exceptionally historical. Canterbury cathedral is famous as the spot where Thomas A'Becket was murdered by four knights.

To Winchester Millard went in search of Sabre's house. The history of the city dates back to the time of the ancient Britons.

The most noteworthy feature of Winchester is its cathedral, in which lie the remains of many of the Norman Kings, notably those of William Rufus, who ascended the throne in 1087, and met his death whilst hunting in the New Forest.

MANY TAUGHT IN MISSION SCHOOLS

[By Associated Press]

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Christian education is being given 131,370 native pupils in 3,790 schools in foreign lands, under the direction of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, according to a report made public here from a survey just completed by Eric M. North, education secretary of the denomination. Professors and teachers in the schools number 6,868, the report said.

The schools vary in type according to the need of their locality. A large proportion are elementary schools, next in number are secondary and others are high schools, colleges, industrial and vocational institutes, medical schools and seminaries.

"In many mission fields, as in Africa," the report says, "the standard of living is so low that vocational education is necessary to provide means of earning a livelihood for the converts so they can lead Christian lives independent of the heathen superstitions about education."

PLANNING FOR THE BIG DEBATE AT SAN DIEGO

Strong Teams on Both Sides to Represent Glendale

For the San Diego debate, which is to be held November 23, the following students will represent Glendale Union High school. On the affirmative side are Isabel Tousey and Paul Cunningham; the negative is composed of Horace Anderson, Bonnie Jean Lockwood with Charlotte Busby as alternative. The debate will be simultaneous, the affirmative staying here and the negative traveling to San Diego. These students are all well trained in the debating line and will try to win both sides of the debate for Glendale.

Isabel Tousey and Paul Cunningham are well known in debating circles. Isabel has participated in many league debates and was secretary of debating last year. This year Paul Cunningham is the secretary. He had the honor of winning a perfect score in his debate last year. With these two representatives Glendale has a wonderful chance to win the affirmative side of the question, which is: "Resolved, That America should enter the International Court of Justice."

The negative side is also composed of a strong team. Horace Anderson is a well known debater and is capable of handling the question in an excellent fashion. Although Bonnie Jean has never been in a league debate before, she was chosen champion debater of Miss Corry's sophomore public speaking classes last year. She was in the junior-senior debate, as also was Horace Anderson. Charlotte Busby is new in Glendale, but she has had excellent training in debating and can be expected to do her best.

A new system of tryouts has been adopted by Miss Corry and Paul Cunningham. These new tryouts are called "discovery tryouts" and are only for the new debating material. The tryout will be held before the league debate, so in this way it will not be necessary for the veteran debaters to try out as the coaches already know what they can do. This plan will do away with much confusion and will also save time.

Wednesday, October 31, the first discovery tryouts were held in room 308 during the fourth period in the morning. Mr. Brewster was chairman and Miss Freeman and Mr. Turrill were the judges. Those who tried out on the negative side were Bonnie Jean Lockwood, Mary Jo Phillips, Charlotte Busby and Donald MacMillan. Velma Bolton and Jack Finch tried out for the affirmative. The judges used the place and percentage system in judging the speeches, and counted on argument, construction and delivery. Bonnie Jean Lockwood won a place on the San Diego debate team and won the championship.

These tryouts are very valuable, for in this way new talent is discovered. The tryouts Wednesday were not especially for the San Diego debate, but were to get an idea as to the material which Glendale has. The persons who participate in this debate can enter only one other league debate this season, so a great deal of new talent is needed.

The San Diego debate is the first league debate of the season and with the material Glendale has the debate should be won. Every student should turn out to the debate which is held here in the auditorium and as many as possible can go to San Diego. Glendale beat San Diego last year and with the cooperation of all the students should do so again.

SCHOOL SPENDINGS

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc. (Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

The statement has been made, on good authority, that two and a half times as much is spent, per capita, on the education of high school children as on the education of children in the elementary schools. There is reason for insisting that things would be much better were the opposite situation to obtain.

Such reason is found in the now well established fact that the first years of life are far and away the most important so far as concerns the forming of habits of right thinking and right doing.

Unless care is then taken to direct and stimulate the mind as it should be directed and stimulated, unless at the same time the foundations are laid for a normal physical development, all the education of later years may not suffice to insure proper intellectual and moral growth.

And indeed it is today notorious that, albeit given the advantages of a high school education, even of a university education, multitudes of people go through life only half alive, so to speak.

They do not think in any real sense of the term. They do not apply themselves with energy to anything, unless it be to amusements of one sort or another. They have next to no social consciousness. And, besides being mentally inert, they are in many cases emotionally uncontrolled.

In high school and in the university they plainly indicated their inadequacy. Only by herculean efforts did their instructors succeed in holding them to their tasks. And, rightly enough, the unwillingness and incompetency they displayed were attributed, by the sorely tried instructors, to faulty preparation in earlier years.

Yet is it surprising that the preparation was faulty?

To be otherwise, co-operation between the home and the school is indispensable, a co-operation as yet scanty in evidence. Indispensable, too, is the presence in the school of teachers, not merely of inspiring personality, but thoroughly grounded in the principles of child psychology, of mental and bodily hygiene and mind-body relationships, of the art of suggestion, and adepts in kindling desire to learn as well as adepts in imparting information.

Or in other words, because of the supreme importance of the formative influences of the first years, only those should be accepted as teachers of the very young who have had a training at least as thorough and extensive as that now required in the case of university professors. Provision should also be made, through the cutting down of classes, to give these expert teachers opportunity for dealing satisfactorily with individual problems as they arise.

Which means, of course, both a great increase in the number of teachers of the very young, and a great increase in their remuneration. One cannot expect to obtain the services of highly trained teachers for anything like the amount a teacher of no special training would be willing to accept.

And if it be objected that, "This simply can't be done, it would cost too much," the fact remains that until a way is found for doing it, no marked improvement in the social situation need be looked for. The major evils represented by vice, crime, dependency, insanity, nervous disease, suicide, will afflict mankind as sorely as ever—and will continue to exact from mankind a financial toll far outweighing increased expenditures for the educational reform here suggested.

DAWSON, Yukon Territory.—Tens of thousands of caribou are trekking southward for the winter. Bands of them have passed through the outskirts of Dawson City and hunters have got a plentiful supply. For a hundred miles down, bands of caribou can be seen swimming the Yukon river, and sometimes surrounding canoes and steamboats as they pass.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba.—Roads gravelled in Manitoba total 1,000 miles, while there is a stretch of 20,000 miles, built to standard grade, with 400 first class bridges and culverts scattered throughout the province. In all, Manitoba boasts of 22,000 miles of fairly good roads.
